

Where will you be in 2015 if inflation hits big and you are unprepared?

You don't want to find out! We're inviting you to attend two of our Million Friends calls (which you can do anonymously) and review a presentation on our training website (a free website).

You'll find a company and system unlike anything you've ever seen. Vollara's headquarters are in this professional complex in Dallas. Our 'made in America' manufacturing plant is in Bristol, Virginia. But our future is in the hands and hearts of people like you.

One of our most attractive credentials is that we are small! Many recruiters like to brag about how big their company is. Not the Million Friends group. We want you to know that Vollara has room to grow forty times bigger than it is now. We don't just have "room at the top," our top is not even occupied yet! It's early enough that you and your people can charge forward without limit.

For 25 years our principal owner has taken over distressed companies and built them to greatness. Mr. Urso's goal is to make Vollara the crown jewel of his business career.

The timing is ideal, the ownership is right, the products are exceptional and our support system will speak for itself when you check it out.

From our Dreams Presentation (stated as an Affirmation)

The US and Canada have 360 million individuals (120 million households). Half of those households may be too rich, too poor, too old or too something else to be good candidates. That leaves 60 million. I vow to recruit 10 Committed People from that pool of talent. I will have this done in 18 months.

From our 5 Promises Message

Users of the Million Friends System look for people who want better health or more money. Like a TV ad, we put forth our proposition. "Hey, look at this. If you like what you see we'll tell you the whole story."

From our Building Blocks Message

Network marketing is a system of moving products through large numbers of work-from-home people. A recruiter and leader can work from the comfort of his home with very low overhead and branch out all across America. He can build something that will last! Our Million Friends Support System will help train and support you.

A Huge Wave Is Coming

Amazing data unveiled! Inflation, it seems, is an add-on cost of engaging in any big war. The inflation struggle after WW II lasted for six years. That was acceptable. Following Vietnam it was 8.75% for ten years. Take the other 50 years since 1946: the average inflation was only 2.68%.

Don't Let Inflation Swamp You!

Experts agree that a wave of hyperinflation is now coming. By the way, inflation also went wild after the Civil War and World War I.

"Inflation can be turned to your advantage."

My name is Bob. I'm here to inform you that today's landscape is identical to what I saw in the 1970's. My war was Vietnam; today's wars are Iraq and Afghanistan. When inflation hit in 1974 my monthly network marketing checks zoomed to $14,000—big money in 1974. That was long ago, but the timing is right again!

I caught another network marketing wave in 1995. Having been there twice, I know the signs...and, believe me, the time is NOW. No matter what your age, 2011 to 2020 can be the best financial years of your life. Or they can kill you.

I'm known as a straight shooter and an expert in this industry. I've been successful since 1970 and in all those years I've never seen a better mix of timing, products, company and field support. We are facing a multiyear stretch that will be painful if you just let life happen.

You Can Take Control!
